

Financial Matters

The fee for the first semester at the PSG Institute in Coimbatore is Rs 150,000.

The tuition for the semesters at Hof University in Germany are € 3.690,00 each semester.

The fee for the student union is approx. € 100 each semester.

In case an enrolment after 4 semesters is required, the tuition fee for the 5th and 6th semester is each € 100.

The fees do not cover living expenses, German health insurance, accommodations or study material, e.g. books.

This fee includes organizational support from PSG during the visa application process, as well as accommodation assistance during the stay in Hof. In addition, it includes organization of student excursions to various companies and field trips to get an overall impression of German work and living culture.

Accommodations and living expenses in Germany are estimated at around €700,00 per month which includes rent and food. Health insurance (about €70,00 per month, see details below) is not included in this estimate.

For scholarship options please check the funding guide of the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD).